i KEEP US SAFE

Empowering an informed,
involved, and observant citizenry

Individual members of our communities are best positioned to observe the initial indicators of illicit activity. It is critical that these individuals are willing and able to inform law enforcement and security communities of suspicious or unusual activity. We must seek to encourage the development of social networks that derive from positive and productive relationships among our law enforcement and security communities and members of those communities at unique risk of exploitation.

A Simple Observation

A Single Report can lead to actions that may STOP bioterrorism

THINK ABOUT THE POWER OF THAT. THE POWER OF iWATCH.

Biosecurity protects, controls, and provides accountability for biological agents and toxins to prevent unauthorized possession, loss, theft, misuse, diversion or intentional release. Report suspicious activity or behavior.
